

DEVCRAFT

The Web War

4th April, 10:30 AM to 11:15 AM

ABOUT EVENT

"Techies, Rally!" HackerWorld SDEC proudly presents DevCraft, a development contest that pushes the boundaries of innovation and creativity. This exciting event, sponsored by Adobe, is set to be a thrilling amalgamation of coding challenges, learning opportunities, and a celebration of technology driven solutions.

DevCraft is not just a competition; it's a showcase of the next generation of Web Developers. Participants will navigate the dynamic world of web development, all within a challenging timeframe.

The primary objective is not merely to compete in a themed setting but to contribute to the larger goal of cultivating a culture of boundless enthusiasm, teamwork, and continuous learning within the website development community.

Gear up for an unparalleled coding experience .
